K–12 Adult Education has changed significantly since its inception. What are the most crucial issues facing the adult ed administrators today? As Adult Ed new administrators, how do they meet these challenges?

Given the CAEP funding is the sole source of funding for most K-12 Adult Schools, it is critical to ensure the funding is “delivered” from your district to Adult School in a timely fashion. How do you make sure your purchase orders, big ticket items are going through your District purchase department smoothly. How would you improve your school-district relations, especially with your superintendent?

Addressing unfettered Carryover is this year's legislative priority. What factors do you consider when allocating money for the educational program? Can you share your experiences in developing your program/school budget? What steps would you take when developing a budget for your school?

Innovations-at-scale.... to benefit students

During the last financial crisis, the need for Adult Education was already not being met statewide and the demand increased due to people becoming unemployed and seeking to retrain and improve their skills in order to get back to work quickly.
